Newsletter Friday 23rd February 2024
www.georgiangardens.co.uk

Welcome back! We really do hope that you were able to enjoy some rest over the half term. The children have come back looking smart and keen ready for the run up to Easter. We have welcomed Mrs Vicky Wake to our teaching team—she has felt warmly welcomed already and has enjoyed getting to know all of the children.

You will have seen a number of important School Ping messages this week. The bookings for parents' evening are filling fast so do have a look at School Ping to ensure you get the most convenient time possible. Details of the school book fair are included in this newsletter—it opens on Tuesday after school and will continue both before and after school until Monday 4th March. As long as it is dry, it will be held on the KS2 playground so any KS1 parents, do remember to walk round to the other side of school so as not to miss out!

To help with your plans for the rest of 2024 please find details below of the INSET dates for the next academic year.

Our annual school book fair will be in school from after school on Tuesday 27th February until Tuesday 5th March. As in previous years there will be a wide variety of books on sale for all levels of readers. Payment can be by card or cash. The £1 book tokens are also valid to use on books over £2.99.

KS2 Author Visit:

As KS2 parents will have seen in the recent 'School Ping' we have an author, David Fuller, visiting the children on Monday 4th March. He is offering his books for sale at a discount (see the ping for details of how to order them). During the day he will spend time with the children talking about how he became a writer, the struggles he overcame to follow his passion and where he gets his ideas from for his stories.

The annual WBD falls on Thursday 7th March this year and once again we are inviting the children to dress up if they would like to. They have a choice of dressing as a book character (and bring the book in with the character in it) or come in pyjamas/dressing gown (bringing a favourite bedtime story book). There will be an extra focus on books and reading in school that week as part of our book week, however, as you know, reading is a high priority for us in school year-round.

Perhaps you could think of something to do that week to raise the profile of books at home. A trip to the library? Read an extra story at bedtime? Read to your child? Download and listen to an e-book? Tell friends about a great book you have read.

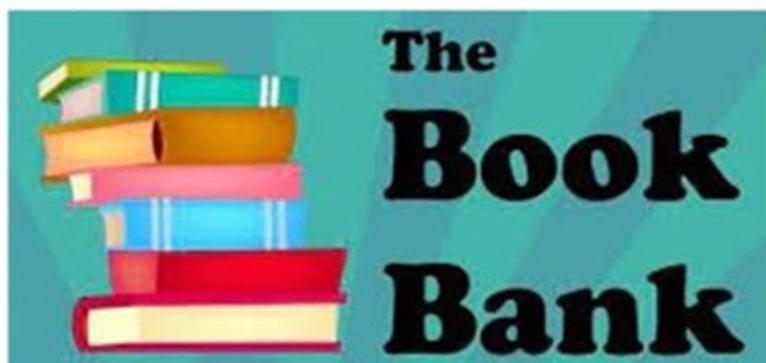

Your child will have brought home their annual £1 book token this week. It may be in their book bag so do look carefully as they have monetary value! They can be used in exchange for one of the new £1 books available in Waterstones and Sainsburys or used as a £1 token towards the cost of other books.

Year 4 Mummification:

Year 4 have had an exciting week beginning with designing and making a torch in DT/science. Also we had a lesson in how the Ancient Egyptians mummified their loved ones. We now know the bodies were preserved in natron (salt) and the bodies were covered in a black tar-like substance called 'mummia' - hence the word mummification. The visuals were great, however, the smell of some of the body parts weren't so pleasant!
